

SourceSouth opens new office in heart of Buenos Aires

August 19-

Buenos Aires, Argentina- SourceSouth the leading provider of high-end technical support, system administration, and development services to hosting providers and ISP's proudly opens its new facility in the historically protected building in the heart of downtown Buenos Aires. Argentina's most famous street, "Nueve de Julio" (9th of July), is the widest avenue in the world.

Argentina is known for its recently updated data telecommunications system, it's geographic & cultural relevance to US and European companies, and its favorable exchange rate.

SourceSouth's new office features:

- Dedicated and redundant data network via multiple providers.
- Hitachi Air conditioning
- Gigabit Ethernet LAN
- Cisco/ Linksys power over Ethernet VOIP system
- Asterisk
- Direct-to-Backbone internet connectivity
- Doorstep access to all train, subway, and bus transportation
- 24 hour security

Combined with U.S. and European IT industry executive leadership and the cost savings of Argentina SourceSouth have already seen customers such as TerraXML, FreeCRM, Kadoink, and CRMASP.

"We have had significant demand for our technology services and the opening of our new office demonstrates our confidence in this to continue", commented Scott Unkefer, President of SourceSouth LLC and SourceSouth S.R.L. "We now have offices in the U.S. and Argentina as well as dedicated voice/ data service to the U.S. and UK and have established ourselves in the heart of the Buenos Aires Business District.”

SourceSouth S.R.L. is now located at

989 Corrientes
Suite 23 & 24
Capital Federal
Buenos Aires, Argentina
Postal Code (1043)